PRESIDENTS CORNER – December 2019

By Doug Ralston

It's hard for me to believe Christmas is just a little over a week from now and this is my last President's Corner before Wiley steps in to write this in the future. I'm at a loss of words to express how grateful I am to have held your trust and support as your President. In a time in which many RV clubs have suffered extreme loss of membership and even ceased to exist, Peach State Travelers has continued to grow. This happens because of you, the members of the club and how you welcome new members, making them feel at home and enjoying the fellowship we have together.

Wiley is already hard at work to ensure an even better future for PST. Not only does he have an outstanding and experienced group of officers, he has also selected and secured very capable people to head the various committees. Let's all show support to Wiley and the entire leadership team as well as the folks who will be hosting the various weekend rallies during 2020, making it a banner year!

Last weekend we enjoyed a fun and diverse Christmas Rally. Camping at Fort Yargo State Park allowed for a primitive setting complete with campfires, etc. We dined at a local eatery, attended a sellout play and on Saturday enjoyed a fabulous sit-down dinner at the Carlyle's home. I think we should refer to the house as an inn...what an inviting location, situated on a large farm, decorated beyond "Southern Living Standards" and food served piping hot (much of which was grown on the farm). A special thanks to Boyd & Terry for opening their home to all of us. Also, Terry had assistance to pull everything together from Lovena Mallory, Kenlyn & Carole Sawyer. I sincerely wish everyone a safe and joyous Holiday Season. I thank all of you and appreciate the Cracker Barrel gift card. That was totally unexpected and a true surprise.
Merry Christmas, Doug

RALLY REPORT – December 2019

By Doug Ralston

A total of 33 people enjoyed a Holiday weekend allowing plenty to do yet providing ample time to relax in a rural setting of Fort Yargo State Park! We had 12 RV's while others drove to the various events. If I have the number correct, 28 people attend the Friday night dinner and play, 31 people attended dinner at the Carlyle's home and 18 folks gathered at the Ralston site for Sunday morning breakfast. Those participating included: Beth Bennett; Wiley Bowman; Boyd & Terry Carlyle; TJ & Ginny Cooke; Bill & Margie Esposito; Wayne & Wanda Hollenbeck; Dennis & Terri Jones; Lovena Mallory (Cecil was not able to attend due to a cold); Steve & Debbie Matthews; Doug & Brenda Ralston; Dan & Margie Rankin; Gene & Beth Richardson; Kenlyn & Carole Sawyer; Alan & Debra Simons; Marvin & Patricia Voyna; Ted & Darlene Young; Jim & Annabell Repp (alums) and Joel & Linda (special guest of the Carlyle's).

Many folks arrived to the campground on Thursday, so the group decided to venture out to a seafood restaurant. The food was good and we were even sitting in an area with the following sign posted. The desserts were to die for, just ask Beth Bennett and Al & Debra Simons - they split one three ways and were still full!

Friday was a open day until we all drove to the Friends American Grill in Winder. The staff took very good care of us and following dinner we made our way to the Community Theatre to see the live "sold-out" performance of "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever". The play was fun to watch and pulled a lot of laughter out of the audience. The conclusion of the story was very touching and well done.

Saturday was another open day until 4:00 PM (exactly when the UGA vs LSU ballgame was to begin). We drove to the Carlyle's to find a home decorated to the nines! I think every room was decorated and it must have taken Terry two months to put everything together. Dinner was ready when we arrived and people gathered out of the enclosed back porch, dining room, foyer and breakfast room to eat. I won't even try to tell you how good the food was, how plentiful it was. Country steak, ham, potatoes, green beans, corn, casseroles, fruit salad, rolls, multiple desert selections...I could go on but I'll leave it that if anyone was still hungry it was their own fault!

Following dinner, Doug installed the newly elected officers into their new roles after which Wiley shared a few thoughts with the group. Terri Jones, our new Wagon Master, reviewed the upcoming events and a board she plans to have at all the rallies, making it easier for people to see what months are still needing hosts.

Then the fun really began as Terry Carlyle led us in some games. First, she had little known facts about each of us and had the group attempt to match a fact with a specific person. Little did we know that TJ Cooke attended Woodstock way back in the '60's in New York or that Dan Rankin met Ranger Doug or Wiley holds a degree in Biology. Following this educational game, we were divided into two teams or groups. I'm not sure if the object was to see which group could be the loudest or to see how close members of the same group would come to grabbing things from the member sitting next to them.

Actually, small gifts were embedded in a plastic wrap ball and each person was to unwrap the plastic wrap until a gift was freed. As the game progressed (we were timed by a person sitting next to rolling dice until doubles appeared and then the ball & dice were passed to the next folks) people became much more aggressive just to win a post-it pad, candy cane, etc. It was really a lot of fun.

Sunday morning, 18 people came by the Ralston site for muffins & sausage/biscuits'. The temperature was in the low 40's but thanks to Dennis Jones, we had a good fire burning in the pit. People didn't mind the chill in the air and enjoyed talking with each other. No one seemed to be in any rush to leave and reported how much they enjoyed the weekend.

Chinese bombs need to be outlawed. Stole from Steve Matthews

Friends - please be careful

Yesterday I went to a Christmas party. I had a few beers, followed by a few cocktails, followed by a few shots....

I still had the sense to know that I was over the limit. That's when I decided to do what I have never done before: I took a cab home.

Sure enough, there was a police road block on the way home, and since it was a cab, they waved it past. I arrived home safely without incident. This was both a great relief and a surprise because I had never driven a cab before. I don't even know where I got it from and, now that it is in my garage, I don't know what to do with it.

Two hours into my first day of work as a WalMart greeter, an ugly woman came in with her two kids. Hearing her swear at them, I said, "Good morning, welcome to WalMart. Nice kids, are they twins?"

The mom answered, "Hell no, they ain't twins. The oldest one's 9, and the other one's 7. Why would you think they're twins? Are you blind or stupid?" I replied, "I'm not blind or stupid. I just couldn't believe someone slept with you twice. Have a good day, and thank you for shopping at WalMart."

My supervisor said I probably wasn't cut out for this line of work.

Santa

For all you campers out there...you know who you are...

As I sit in my Thermals, the wife in her robe, We live in our 5th wheel, we call our abode.

With the weather turning colder, and no snow on the ground We figured ole Santa would still come around.

With no slant roof to land on, No chimney to slide, Santa has for RV'ers, customized his ride.

He cruises up in a sleigh flashing Bling, He knocks on the door, and gives us a ring.

Instead of TV's, radio's and clocks, He brings what we need, a new set of Chocks.

He sets down his bag, and twinkles his nose, He pulls out sanitizer and a new flex waste hose.

He climbs back in his sleigh, and chimes with a laugh, He circles the RV, giving it a bath.

As he soars into the sky, and deep out of sight, Merry Christmas Full timers and have a peaceful night.

Did you know this? The partridge in a pear tree is Jesus Christ. -Two turtle doves are the Old and New Testaments. -Three French hens stand for faith, hope and love. -The four calling birds are the four gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke & John. -The five golden rings recalled the Torah or Law, the first five books of ...the Old Testament. -The six geese a-laying stand for the six days of creation..... -Seven swans a-swimming represent the sevenfold gifts of the Holy Spirit--Prophecy, Serving, Teaching, Exhortation, Contribution, Leadership, and Mercy. -The eight maids a-milking are the eight beatitudes. -Nine ladies dancing are the nine fruits of the Holy Spirit--Love, Joy, Peace, Patience, Kindness, Goodness, Faithfulness, Gentleness, and Self Control. -The ten lords a-leaping are the ten commandments. -The eleven pipers piping stand for the eleven faithful disciples. -The twelve drummers drumming symbolizes the twelve points of belief in the Apostles' Creed. So there is your history for today. MERRY CHRISTMAS!! ♡ yes, I said MERRY CHRISTmas because Christmas is not without CHRIST!

Hanukkah

(from sundown to sundown of the following dates)

Dec. 22-Dec. 30

The Festival of Lights

Hanukkah, the "Festival of Lights," starts on the 25th day of the Jewish calendar month of Kislev and lasts for eight days and nights. In 2016, Hanukkah begins at sundown on December 24. With blessings, games, and festive foods, Hanukkah celebrates the triumphs--both religious and military--of ancient Jewish heroes.

Hanukkah is a relatively minor holiday in the Jewish year. In the United States, however, its closeness to Christmas has brought greater attention to Hanukkah and its gift-giving tradition. Amid the ever-growing flood of Christmas advertising, it may seem especially fitting that the Hanukkah story tells of Jewish culture surviving in a non-Jewish world.

The Hanukkah Story

Nearly 2,200 years ago, the Greek-Syrian ruler Antiochus IV tried to force Greek culture upon peoples in his territory. Jews in Judea - now Israel- were forbidden their most important religious practices as well as study of the Torah. Although vastly outnumbered, religious Jews in the region took up arms to protect their community and their religion. Led by Mattathias the Hasmonean, and later his son Judah the Maccabee, the rebel armies became known as the Maccabees. After three years of fighting, in the year 3597, or about 165 B.C.E., the Maccabees victoriously reclaimed the temple on Jerusalem's Mount Moriah. Next they prepared the temple for rededication -- in Hebrew, Hanukkah means "dedication." In the temple they found only enough purified oil to kindle the temple light for a single day. But miraculously, the light continued to burn for eight days.

The Menorah

The lighting of the menorah, known in Hebrew as the hanukiya, is the most important Hanukkah tradition. A menorah is a candlestand with nine branches. Usually eight candles - one for each day of Hanukkah - are of the same height, with a taller one in the middle, the shamash ("servant"), which is used to light the others. Each evening of Hanukkah, one more candle is lit, with a special blessing.

The menorah symbolizes the burning light in the temple, as well as marking the eight days of the Hanukkah festival. Some say it also celebrates the light of freedom won by the Maccabees for the Jewish people.

The Dreidel

Long a favorite Hanukkah toy, the dreidel once had a serious purpose. When the Syrians forbid study of the Torah, Jews who studied in secret kept spinning tops "sivivons, or dreidels" on hand. This way, if they were found studying, they could quickly pretend that they had only been playing.

Outside of Israel, a dreidel has the Hebrew letters "nun," "gimel," "hay," and "shin" on its four sides. These letters stand for "Nes gadol haya sham," which means, "A great miracle happened there," referring to Israel. An Israeli dreidel has the letter "pay" rather than "shin." This stands for "poh," meaning "here" a great miracle happened here."

The Hebrew letters also represent Yiddish words that tell how to play the dreidel game. Each player starts with the same amount of candies, chocolate coins (gelt), or other tokens, and puts one in a pot. Players take turns spinning the dreidel, waiting to see which letter lands face up. Nun is for "nisht," do nothing. Gimel is for "gants," take the whole pot. Hay is for "halb," take half. Shin is for "shtel," add to the pot. The game ends when a single player wins all the tokens.

Hanukkah Foods

Many traditional Hanukkah foods are cooked in oil, in remembrance of the oil that burned in the temple. In the United States, the most widespread Hanukkah food is latkes, or potato pancakes, a custom that may have developed in Eastern Europe. In Israel, the favorite Hanukkah food is sufganiya, a kind of jelly donut cooked in oil. Israelis eat sufganiyot for more than a month before the start of Hanukkah.

Eating dairy products, especially cheese, is another Hanukkah tradition. This is done in memory of the Jewish heroine Judith, who according to legend saved her village from Syrian attackers. Judith fed wine and cheese to the Syrian general Holofernes until he became so drunk that he fell to the ground. She then seized his sword and cut off his head, which she brought back to her village in a basket. The next morning, Syrian troops found the headless body of their leader and fled in terror. —By Holly Hartman

Counseling

After 35 years of marriage, a husband and wife came for counseling. When asked what the problem was, the wife went into a tirade listing every problem they had ever had in the years they had been married.

On and on and on: neglect, lack of intimacy, emptiness, loneliness, feeling unloved and unlovable, an entire laundry list of unmet needs she had endured.

Finally, after allowing this for a sufficient length of time, the therapist got up, walked around the desk and after asking the wife to stand, he embraced and kissed her long and passionately as her husband watched - with a raised eyebrow. The woman shut up and quietly sat down as though in a daze.

The therapist turned to the husband and said, "This is what your wife needs at least 3 times a week. Can you do this?"

"Well, I can drop her off here on Mondays and Wednesdays, but on Fridays, I fish."

Don't use Magic Eraser on these!

Plenty of RVers love those Magic Eraser cleaners. All around the rig they can be handy for quick cleaning – some even use the Magic Eraser mops for awning cleaning. But here are five things you shouldn't use them on:

1. Stone countertops: It removes the protective seal on your stone countertops. Without that protective seal, your stone could be vulnerable to scratches, stains and other forms of permanent damage.

What To Use Instead: Use my easy-to-make homemade granite cleaner and a microfiber cloth to wipe down stone countertops. This combo will keep your stone countertops clean, shiny, and protected!

2. Nonstick cookware: Nonstick coating can scratch easily, especially if you clean it with abrasive materials like a Magic Eraser. Once a nonstick pan is scratched, the chemicals from the nonstick coating can get absorbed into your food. Instead, hand wash nonstick pans with a soft sponge and a bit of dish soap. If you have a really stubborn mess on your hands, use a bit of baking soda to help loosen it up.

What To Use Instead: Hand wash your nonstick pans with a soft sponge and a bit of dish soap. If you have a really stubborn mess on your hands, use a bit of baking soda to help loosen it up.

3. Stainless steel: As durable as it is, cleaning it with a Magic Eraser it will likely end up leaving small scratches on the surface. Instead, use Barkeepers Friend and a soft, wet sponge.

What To Use Instead: Clean stainless steel pots and pans with Barkeepers Friend and a soft, wet sponge.

4. Electronic screens: These need to be cleaned super gently to avoid scratching them. That means that Magic Erasers are a big no-no for cleaning screens!

What To Use Instead: Clean the screens of your electronics with my homemade screen cleaner solution and a clean microfiber cloth.

5. The tow car (or truck): Sure, this oughta be a no-brainer, but just to be on the safe side Vehicle paint has a protective coating which helps protect the paint and makes your car easier to clean. But a Magic Eraser can rub right through that protective coating down to the paint easily! You can use a Magic Eraser to remove particularly stubborn bugs from the front end of your car, but just make sure to be conscious of how much force you are using.

What To Use Instead: Washing your car by hand is usually the safest way to clean it. especially if you do it using microfiber cloths. But if that's not your thing, you can always take it through a touchless or soft-touch car wash!

A WISE MAN ONCE TOLD HIS SON:

MY BOY, WHEN YOU ACCUMULATE THE UNDERSTANDING TO KNOW WHY A PIZZA IS MADE ROUND, TO BE PUT IN A SQUARE BOX & IS EATEN IN TRIANGLES, THEN & ONLY THEN WILL YOU BE ABLE TO UNDERSTAND WOMEN

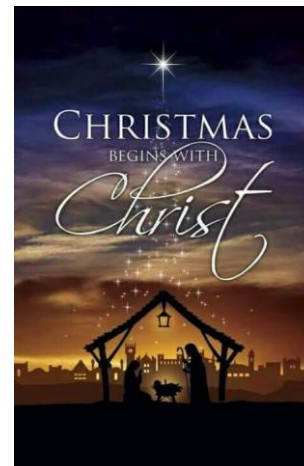

Car Jacking?

An elderly Florida lady did her shopping and, upon returning to her car, found four males in the act of leaving with her vehicle. She dropped her shopping bags and drew her handgun, proceeding to scream at the top of her lungs, "I have a gun, and I know how to use it! Get out of the car!". The four men didn't wait for a second threat. They got out and ran like mad. The lady, somewhat shaken, then proceeded to load her shopping bags into the back of the car and got into the driver's seat. She was so shaken that she could not get her key into the ignition. She tried and tried, and then she realized why. It was for the same reason she had wondered why there was a football, a Frisbee and two 12-packs of beer in the front seat. A few minutes later, she found her own car parked four or five spaces farther down. She loaded her bags into the car and drove to the police station to report her mistake. The sergeant to whom she told the story couldn't stop laughing. He pointed to the other end of the counter, where four pale men were reporting a car jacking by a mad, elderly woman described as white, less than five feet tall, glasses, curly white hair, and carrying a large handgun. No charges were filed.

The moral of the story? If you're going to have a senior moment... make it memorable.

Slow Food, Fast.

The JOHNSON FAMILY Story

Elton and Evelyn Johnson established a Plant City Tradition of FAMILY DINING & SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY in 1954. It began with a gas station where Evelyn would cook family meals for her husband and children. It wasn't long before friends and passers-by would show up to enjoy her SOUTHERN COOKIN' and GENEROUS HOSPITALITY. Eventually, with the help of Aunt Evie and Aunt Pearl in the kitchen, the gas station was converted to the first Johnson's Restaurant.

Fred and his wife, Tammy carried forward the same TRADITIONS in 1998, opening the first Fred's Market Restaurant on site at the State Farmer's Market resulting in fresh produce at their fingertips. So began the legacy of SLOW FOOD, FAST. In 2003, Grandpa's BBQ recipes were revived by grandson Owen Johnson, who perfected the rubs and serves up authentic sauces at Johnson Barbeque next door in Plant City. Today the LEGACY continues of SERVIN' IT UP SOUTHERN with their sons, Owen and Michael Johnson. Their strong emphasis on FAMILY HERITAGE, VALUES and good ole' SOUTHERN CUISINE has contributed to making each Fred's Market Restaurant and Johnson Barbeque a place where friends, family and community can come together and connect, enjoying our food cooked slow and served fast.

We thank you for choosing Fred's Market Restaurant and hope you and your family ENJOY our family's dishes, because it is our passion to serve you fresh, healthy and great tasting meals!
