PRESIDENTS CORNER – January 2020

By Wiley Bowman

It is difficult to believe that we are already into a new year (decade) and looking forward to a great year for PST. I have been honored to be serve as your new 2020-21 president. Filling Doug's shoes will not be an easy task. Doug is a natural for making people feel welcome and still do some "pushing" when necessary. Thank you Doug for all you do for PST. I only accepted this position because I am confident that I will receive much needed help from Doug, Kenlyn and Pat as well as my appointed chairs. I am fortunate to have a very competent slate of chairpersons to serve in the coming year. Patricia Voyna will remain as Newsletter Editor, Terry Joiner is already hard at work as Wagon Master, Beth Bennett as Membership Chair, Wanda Hollenbeck as Sunshine Chair, Wayne Hollenbeck as Directory Chair and Jim Hollis as Chaplin.

Please feel free to contact me or any of these appointees if you have any concerns or suggestions in the various areas.

We enjoyed a very successful January luncheon at the Marietta Diner thanks to the efforts of our hosts, Bill and Margie Espositos. Due to the large attendance of more than 30 people, things were a bit crowded, but the food was delicious and fellowship was wonderful. We were fortunate to have two visitors, Robert and Michelle Filipovich, who drove down from the Dalton area to attend our luncheon and get to know some of our members. We hope they will return and choose become members of the best RV travel group in Georgia.

Please mark your calendars for the next luncheon rally to be held at the Peachtree Airport Downwind Restaurant. Don't forget to notify the hosts, Moremans or Simons, if you intend to attend the February luncheon on February 1st. Hope to see everyone there.

Answer to my question last month; for 2 years the header on the officers and rallies was one year behind. Instead of the year 2019 was 2018 and year 2018 was 2017.. Thanks George (HOGT)

Worth Pondering

“You can't go back and change the beginning, but you can start where you are and change the ending.” —Anonymous

Are you really washing your dishes correctly?

By Russ and Tiña De Maris

Fellow RVers, how do you wash your dishes? Do they stack up in the sink, making a stink, until the end of day? Or do you “clean as you go,” squirting a little dish soap on a sponge, wiping away at the dish grunge, and giving a quick rinse? If you’re doing the latter, dish detergent detective Procter & Gamble says you’ve got it all wrong. Here’s why:

Sadly, like a lot of us, things haven’t changed much in decades. OK, maybe sagging skin – but dish soap, no changes. Procter & Gamble’s Dawn has been around since the ’70s, and was designed to work with water – lots of it. Fill your sink with water, add a squirt of Dawn, then toss in the dishes and wishy-washy to your heart’s content. Result: Clean dishes, ready for a rinse. But, squirt a dash of Dawn on your sponge or rag and rub away on the dishes – there’s just not enough foam to get the oils, grime, and potentially bacteria off of the dishes.

You know what’s coming next. Yep, it’s the dawn of a new Dawn! [Drum roll, please.] “Dawn Powerwash Dish Spray” comes in a spray bottle. Shoot squirts out of the spray bottle, now dash with the dishcloth, and hey! Presto! Give that dish a rinse and it’s ready for the next use. No sink full of water – which could be a real plus for the boondocking set. First, you’ll use less precious fresh water, and take up less space in the gray tank. And, it’s easier on the propane supply, as you’ll not need oceans of hot water to do the task.

And the dark side of this new anti-crud crusader? You saw that coming too, didn’t you?! The truth is at the checkout line – the new Powerwash Dish Spray and it’s nifty nozzle will set you back a couple bucks more than you’re paying for the “needs lotsa water” variety. But Procter & Gamble says it will gamble that you’ll be happy to pay a bit more for the convenience. They already know that doing the dishes is the second-most hated household chore – cleaning the “terlit” is top of the list of “Let George do it!” activities. And the company also throws statistics up to make the higher cost go down easier – they claim using Powerwash Dish Spray is “five times faster” than doing dishes the old-fashioned way.

Look for the new cleaning goop in stores after the turn of the year.

Auld Lang Syne lyrics meaning

The words 'Auld Lang Syne' literally translates from old Scottish dialect meaning 'Old Long Ago' and is about love and friendship in times past. The Auld Lang Syne lyrics referring to 'We'll take a Cup of Kindness yet' relate to a drink shared by men and women to symbolise friendship.

Ladies With Computers

They’re back! Church Ladies With Computers. These sentences (with bloopers) actually appeared in church bulletins or were announced in church services:

- Eight new choir robes are currently needed due to the addition of several new members and to the deterioration of some older ones.
- Ladies Bible Study will be held Thursday morning at 10 AM. All ladies are invited to lunch in the Fellowship Hall after the B. S. is done.

Walmart

Walmart installed a new medical machine that for $10 and a urine sample with diagnose any condition.

An easy way to save money on propane

From the “So tight he squeaks when he walks” department: Turn off your oven pilot light when not in use. Save propane = save money.

Winter

THIS IS RIGHT ON THE NOSE.READ IT SLOWLY... I DON'T KNOW WHO WROTE IT, BUT I AM GUESSING IT WAS A SENIOR!!! I FIRST STARTED READING THIS AND WAS READING FAST UNTIL I REACHED THE THIRD SENTENCE. I STOPPED AND STARTED OVER READING, SLOWER AND THINKING ABOUT EVERY WORD. THIS IS VERY THOUGHT-PROVOKING. MAKES YOU STOP AND THINK.

AND THEN IT IS WINTER You know. . . time has a way of moving quickly and catching you unaware of the passing years. It seems just yesterday that I was young, just married and embarking on my new life with my mate. Yet in a way, it seems like eons ago, and I wonder where all the years went. I know that I lived them all. I have glimpses of how it was back then and of all my hopes and dreams. But, here it is... the winter of my life and it catches me by surprise...How did I get here so fast? Where did the years go and where did my youth go? I remember well seeing older people through the years and thinking that those older people were years away from me and that winter was so far off that I could not fathom it or imagine fully what it would be like. But, here it is...my friends are retired and getting grey...they move slower and I see an older person now. Some are in better and some worse shape than me...but, I see the great change....Not like the ones that I remember who were young and vibrant...but, like me, their age is beginning to show and we are now those older folks that we used to see and never thought we'd be.

Each day now, I find that just getting a shower is a real target for the day! And taking a nap is not a treat anymore... it's mandatory! Cause if I don't on my own free will... I just fall asleep where I sit!

And so...now I enter into this new season of my life unprepared for all the aches and pains and the loss of strength and ability to go and do things that I wish I had done but never did!

But, at least I know, that though the winter has come, and I'm not sure how long it will last...this I know, that when it's over on this earth...it's NOT over. A new adventure will begin!

Yes, I have regrets. There are things I wish I hadn't done...things I should have done, but indeed, there are many things I'm happy to have done. It's all in a lifetime.

So, if you're not in your winter yet...let me remind you, that it will be here faster than you think. So, whatever you would like to accomplish in your life please do it quickly! Don't put things off too long!

Life goes by quickly. So, do what you can today, as you can never be sure whether this is your winter or not! You have no promise that you will see all the seasons of your life...so, live for today and say all the things that you want your loved ones to remember...and hope that they appreciate and love you for all the things that you have done for them in all the years past!

"Life" is a gift to you. The way you live your life is your gift to those who come after. Make it a fantastic one.

LIVE IT WELL! ENJOY TODAY! DO SOMETHING FUN!
BE HAPPY! HAVE A GREAT DAY!

REMEMBER:...

"It is health that is real wealth and not pieces of gold and silver.

"LIVE HAPPY IN THIS YEAR AND EVERY YEAR!

LASTLY, CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING:

TODAY IS THE OLDEST YOU'VE EVER BEEN, YET THE YOUNGEST YOU'LL EVER BE SO - ENJOY THIS DAY

WHILE IT LASTS.

~Your kids are becoming you.....

~Going out is good... Coming home is better!

~You forget names.... But it's OK because other people forgot they even knew you!!!

~You realize you're never going to be really good at anything

~The things you used to care to do, you no longer care to do, but you really do care that you don't care to do them anymore.

~You sleep better on a lounge chair with the TV blaring than in bed. It's called "pre-sleep".

~You miss the days when everything worked with just an "ON" and "OFF" switch..

~You tend to use more 4 letter words ... "what?"..."when?"... "what?" . ???

~Now that you can afford expensive jewelry, it's not safe to wear it anywhere.

~You notice everything they sell in stores is "sleeveless"?!!!

~What used to be freckles are now liver spots.

~Everybody whispers.

~You have 3 sizes of clothes in your closet.... 2 of which you will never wear.

~But Old is good in some things: Old Songs, Old movies, and best of all, OLD FRIENDS!!

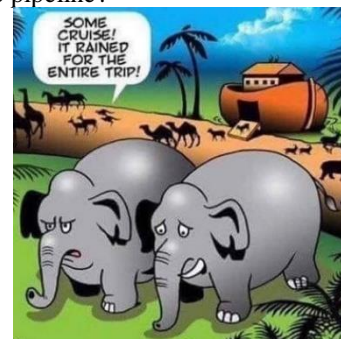

Stay well, "OLD FRIEND!"

Silly Tourist Questions

From Jack Putnam: I used to work in the small expedition ship industry. On trips through Alaskan waters, standing with guests on the deck looking at the extensive Sitka Spruce forests on the mountainside, all bathed in mist with clouds hiding everything more than a couple hundred feet up, someone would often look up and ask, "What altitude are we at?" My answer was always to look over the side of the ship and respond, "About 80 feet."

From Steve Shelton: From a tourist viewing the Alaska pipeline outside Fairbanks: "Don't all those barrels make a lot of noise going down the pipeline?"

One of the biggest fears many RVers have is fire and for good reason — each year, RV fires cause deaths, injuries and millions of dollars in damages to RVs. Just as fires happen in our homes and businesses. Overall, the numbers of RV fires reported each year are around 1,000.

Point is: it happens and you need to take steps to make sure you aren't among those stats I just cited.

That's why we talked with our friend Mark Polk of RVEducation101.com.

Mark is a true expert on all aspects of RVs and RV safety and has critical and very practical advice about keeping our RVs safe from fire. Among his top tips, make sure your fire safety devices are as ready to travel as you are.

"A really good habit to get into is, prior to every trip you take in your RV, you test the device," Polk said, referring to devices like smoke and propane leak detectors.

Also on the topic of fire safety devices, Polk said to use devices that are made for use in RVs, and, where applicable, make sure devices aren't expired.

"It's typically five years from the date it was manufactured," Polk said. "Nobody really talks about that."

Of course, fire extinguishers are important to RV fire safety, though Polk cautions that they have limited use and shouldn't be considered the only line of defense against fire.

"You want to look at the site gauge and make sure that it's fully charged, and if it's not, you'll want to replace it," Polk said.

Being prepared to handle a fire is good advice.

The biggest question we had for Polk, however, was what can RVers do to avoid causing fires altogether?

In short, he said, problems are caused by various incidents, like poorly maintained propane systems.

Other fires are caused by electrical shorts, such as when electric heaters are being used to supplement furnace systems. "Heaters can have a really high wattage," Polk said. "So you leave it on for a really long time, like when you're sleeping and it's creating a lot of heat in the electrical circuit to the point where the insulation might start to melt and two wires make contact and that ignites the fire."

Though Polk offered us plenty of fire safety tips, he said people shouldn't be afraid of RVing. "I don't want to make people paranoid, it's just being aware of these things," Polk said.

Be aware of fire safety devices in your RV

Know how to use those devices

Make sure those devices are maintained

If your fire extinguisher has a powder-based firefighting chemical, turn it upside down and give it a couple of solid taps before leaving so the powder doesn't get caked and jam.

Make sure anything that can burn doesn't accidentally fall into an area where heating elements or open flame may be present.

Have your RV's LP system inspected by a professional annually.

Use electric heaters in the 750-1,000-watt range to avoid pushing the upper limit of an RV's electrical circuit

Use electric heaters that shut off automatically when knocked over. Always keep an operating carbon monoxide detector in your RV

Bull Auction

My wife and I went to the auction mart at Tralee the other week and one of the first exhibits we stopped at was the breeding bulls. We went up to the first pen and there was a sign attached that said, 'THIS BULL

MATED 50 TIMES LAST YEAR'

My wife playfully nudged me in the ribssmiled and said, 'He mated 50 times last year, that's almost once a week.'

We walked to the second pen which had a sign attached that said, 'THIS BULL MATED 150 TIMES LAST YEAR'

My wife gave me a healthy jab and said, 'WOW~~That's more than twice a week !You could learn a lot from him.'

We walked to the third pen and it had a sign attached that said, in capital letters, 'THIS BULL MATED 365 TIMES LAST YEAR

'My wife was so excited that her elbow nearly broke my ribs, and said, 'That's once a day ..You could REALLY learn something from this one.'

I looked at her and said, 'Go over and ask him if every time was with the same old cow.'

My condition has been upgraded from critical to stable and I should eventually make a full recovery.

Gone Fishing

I went fishing this morning but after a short time I ran out of bait and saw a cottonmouth with a frog in its mouth frogs are good bass bait. Knowing the snake couldn't bite me with a frog in its mouth I grabbed it right behind the head, took the frog and put it in my bait bucket. now the dilemma was how to release the snake without getting bit. so I grabbed my bottle of Jack Daniels and poured a little whiskey its mouth. Its eyes roll back and it went limp. I released the snake into the lake without incident and resumed fishing. not long after I felt a notch on my foot, looking down, I saw that it was that snake with two more frogs

I got pulled over by the police today. I was apparently his first speeder because when he got to my window he said, "I've been waiting all day for you." I said "I got here as fast as I could." He let me go.

2000 Airport Road
Chamblee, Georgia 30341

Directions: From Clairmont Road, take Airport Road at the traffic light. Go to the dead end and turn left into the parking area. Enter the building from the corner entrance. Take the stairs and turn right and then right again.

The DeKalb Peachtree Airport began as Camp Gordon during WWI as an Army training base. During the war it was so big that the Southern Railway put a spur track in to the Camp just to bring in troop trains for training. After the war, the Camp was closed and became inactive.

During the late 1930's the base was reactivated and became the Atlanta Naval Air Station. Thousands of Naval pilots were trained there. The base even had the second largest hospital in the Atlanta area.

The base was closed in the mid 50's and was purchased by DeKalb County.

The Downwind Restaurant is located in a building built in the 30,s. That part of the building was the location of the original aircraft controller for the very busy airport.

Our restaurant needs a count from us to arrange seating. Please write to confirm your attendance at (moreman@mindspring.com) or message me at 770-851-5665.

Cost for this great adventure is $2.00 per person. Please pay upon arrival. This is a very interesting restaurant. Next door has plenty of playgrounds and seating for watching the planes come and go. It's a very popular place in the warmer months for picnicking for families and children.

The JOHNSON FAMILY Story

Elton and Evelyn Johnson established a Plant City Tradition of FAMILY DINING & SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY in 1954. It began with a gas station where Evelyn would cook family meals for her husband and children. It wasn't long before friends and passers-by would show up to enjoy her SOUTHERN COOKIN' and GENEROUS HOSPITALITY. Eventually, with the help of Aunt Evie and Aunt Pearl in the kitchen, the gas station was converted to the first Johnson's Restaurant.

Fred and his wife, Tammy carried forward the same TRADITIONS in 1998, opening the first Fred's Market Restaurant on site at the State Farmer's Market resulting in fresh produce at their fingertips. So began the legacy of SLOW FOOD, FAST. In 2003, Grandpa's BBQ recipes were revived by grandson Owen Johnson, who perfected the rubs and serves up authentic sauces at Johnson Barbeque next door in Plant City. Today the LEGACY continues of SERVIN' IT UP SOUTHERN with their sons, Owen and Michael Johnson. Their strong emphasis on FAMILY HERITAGE, VALUES and good ole' SOUTHERN CUISINE has contributed to making each Fred's Market Restaurant and Johnson Barbeque a place where friends, family and community can come together and connect, enjoying our food cooked slow and served fast.

We thank you for choosing Fred's Market Restaurant and hope you and your family ENJOY our family's dishes, because it is our passion to serve you fresh, healthy and great tasting meals!

____ And the longest RV combo is ...

Doug Tolbert, Idaho, built this Powerhouse Coach a few years ago. It's a 52-foot-long, quad-slide motorhome with the muscle of a semi truck, towing a 38,000-lb. trailer and a boat.
